New Pre-Production Workshop Offered

By popular demand, AccessVision is offering a new production workshop this Fall.

"Pre-Production" will show you how planning and developing a script BEFORE shooting can save time, reduce stress and make a better program. You'll learn how to use tools like storyboards, footage logs and a 2-column script to flesh out your ideas on paper before recording anything to tape. You'll also get tips on how to shoot interviews and see finished examples of successful video interviews.

This one-session class will be offered quarterly and requires prior completion of both Digital Editing & Camcorder workshops, or previous production experience. Space is limited, so don't wait to stop by AccessVision and enroll. The $20 workshop fee is required upon enrollment.

Edit Systems Upgrades

AccessVision has recently made some upgrades to its editing computers. The aging computer in Edit Room C has been replaced with a new 8-core MacPro, so it is now the fastest system in the facility.

The other two edit rooms, along with all of the portable editing kits, have also been updated with newer software for Mac OS X and Final Cut Studio, which will also make them run faster.
