

New Facility Update

AccessVision will begin transitioning to its new home in the Battle Creek Tower at 70 West Michigan, suite 112 in the coming weeks. Here's a quick rundown of upcoming dates to keep in mind:

- Studio A will be unavailable for productions starting the third week of December. Studio productions may still be recorded in the Conference Room for the time being.
- January 11th: tentative date that the new facility should be ready to move into.
- January 11 - 25th: "soft close" while we make the transition. Remote equipment will still be available to check out and we will keep at least one edit room in operation as much as possible during the transition.
- January 20th: AccessVision will be closed while phone lines are transferred and furniture is moved. If you can't reach us by phone on January 21st, the phone lines may still be in transition.
- February 1st: the move should be complete and the new facility fully operational.

Disruptions to on-air programming should be minimal, with channels 16 and 17 going off the air for less than 24 hours. However, it is important that all producers turn in their programs as far in advance as possible. Please note that AccessVision will no longer accept VHS tapes for airing as of January 1, 2010.

Of course, these plans and dates are subject to change, depending on how smoothly things go with construction, rewiring, etc. AccessVision appreciates your patience

Happy Holidays!

From everyone at AccessVision, we would like to wish you all a happy holiday season. AccessVision's staff and Board of Directors sincerely appreciate all of the hard work done throughout the year by volunteer producers, directors, camera operators, announcers and everyone else involved that helps provide our programming to the community. We couldn't do it without you.

Here's to another successful year of making your voices heard in the greater Battle Creek area. Thank you all for your continued support!
